Conditions Bad in Greece, John Poulos Says On Return Home

POULOS RETURNS: John Poulos of this city is back from a visit to Greece after nearly four months and he got down and kissed the soil of the good old U.S.A. when he arrived back in this country. He told me so himself.

And he came back with little more than enough to wear at one time. He took quite a bit of clothing with him, but his relatives were in such need of things to wear he just kept on to get himself home and gave the rest away.

I SAW JOHN Friday afternoon, just a few hours after he had arrived in Harrisburg. John, who sailed for Greece Sept. 17 after leaving Harrisburg Sept. 15, landed in New York City Wednesday, saw his daughter, Mrs. Anna Gahmer, in Indianapolis Thursday, and his family met him in Carbondale Friday and brought him home.

He came to this country 43 years ago when a lad of 16 and it was his first trip back, where he visited his five brothers and a sister who are still living.

"I wish everybody could go to Europe," he told me, "so that they could come back and really appreciate the U.S.A." In Greece conditions are bad except in the big cities, where the rich and the tourists do all right. But in the small towns there are no conveniences at all and everybody is poor. They don't even have electricity and I don't see how they live."

All his brothers and his sister live in scattered small towns. He said that only the rich have automobiles and that bus and train travel is difficult. Average pay for most workers is about 66 cents a day American money and that the highest paid workers, who work for the government, get about $2 daily, American money.

"With American money you can live good in Greece," he said, "because of the rate of exchange. There are more visitors in Greece this year than ever before because of this condition," he stated.

There is no television in Greece at all, he said, and added the people who own a radio must pay a tax on it every three months.

YOU CAN BUY American products in the Grecian cities, he said, adding that they are high. He paid 68 cents for two bars of Lux soap for his relatives. U. S. coffee, he said, sells for $3 a pound, but added that the regular Greek coffee is strong and as thick as butter-milk.

"But they like it," he commented.

Everybody wanted his nylon shirts, he said. To them a person who could wear nylon shirts had to be rich. And regarding Greek attire, he said that the western garb is worn but that the quality of the clothing is inferior. In the smaller towns, one cannot buy ready-made suits and dresses, but must buy the material and give it to a tailor or dressmaker.

The women wear long dresses.

Decision Agreed Upon at Visit With President

No Date Set for Trip in Future, White House Says

DENVER — The temporary White House announced today that Vice President Richard M. Nixon has postponed his scheduled good will trip to the Near East next month.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the postponement was agreed upon by President Eisenhower, Nixon, and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Hagerty said no date has been set for the trip in the future.

The announcement was made as the President moved into the third week of convalescence from a heart attack with the temporary White House planning on his leaving here the second week in November for further recuperation, probably at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Nixon, who made good will tours to the Far East in 1953 and Central America early this year, had planned to leave early next month for his Near East swing. However, the President's illness had made it a virtual certainty that the trip would be put off.

Hagerty said the agreement was reached at conferences here during the weekend between the 42-year-old vice president and Mr. Eisenhower.

Meanwhile, the prognosis on the President's continued recovery was as favorable as it could be without his physicians going overboard on predictions.

The people around him at Fitzsimons resigned themselves some days ago to the probability that he would bow out of the national political scene as a competitor in the early future.

No Defense Funds Available for New City Fire Truck

The city of Harrisburg apparently will have to buy a new fire truck on its own as Civil Defense funds are not available.

This word was confirmed Saturday by a high Civil Defense officer who talked with L. G. Martin, Harrisburg fire chief.

Since Eldorado, Marion and other cities in the past have secured fire trucks with the city and the Civil Defense organizations each paying half the cost of the truck, the Harrisburg city administration, faced with the problem of buying a new truck, looked into the matter.

Chief Martin said that Ray Altire, head of Civil Defense in Saline county, told him the last OGD bulletin he had received had said there were no funds available for fire truck purchases, but suggested that he call General Homer at Civil Defense headquarters in Chicago to be certain.

Martin talked with Gen. Homer Saturday and was told that 1953 was the last year that funds were available, that none were made available for 1954, 1955 and 1956.

The general said that it would be after July 1956, before he would know if any funds would be available in 1957.

John W. Allen is Elected President Of Illinois State Historical Society

GALENA, Ill.—John W. Allen, Carbondale, Southern Illinois university authority on southern Illinois history, is the new president of the Illinois State Historical society. He was elected Saturday at the organization's annual fall meeting in Galena.

Only recently Allen was honored by the Southern Illinois Historical society as "Historian of the Year." Currently he is compiling a book on area history and historical sites. He always has been devoted to local history and folklore, has written a series of "county notes" as condensed county historical material, and for two years has been writing a weekly column, "It Happened in Southern Illinois," which appears regularly in more than 100 Illinois newspapers. Excerpts from his columns are sometimes distributed from coast to coast by the wire services.

Allen's favorite hobby is going through dust-covered accumulations in attics and store rooms in search of something of rare historical significance about southern Illinois. He is widely known in towns, villages and "backhills" of the southern part of the state.

Born Near Broughton

His life has been filled with varied experiences, ranging from helping his father split clapboards as a boy to serving as "chambermaid to a string of race horses" in California. He was born on a farm two miles from Broughton in Hamilton county Oct. 14, 1887, claiming one requirement for being president of the United States—being born in a log house.

As a boy he helped his father—an artist with the broadax—make clapboards, split fence rails, and hew ties and barn timbers. He was a good listener in mingling with neighboring older folk and hearing their tales of local history.

School teaching and educational work always has been Allen's real work. After finishing the eighth grade and passing an examination for a teacher's certificate, he started a 27-year span of school teaching in first in country schools, then as principal of a two-room school, and finally as principal successively of three different schools in Harrisburg. In 1920 he became superintendent of Eldorado's elementary schools, continuing for 13 years before going to Fairfield for a similar position for two years.

Joined SIU Faculty in 1942

He went into construction work in 1935 and three years later came to Southern Illinois University's Museum as supervisor of a historical project under W.P.A. In 1942 he joined the SIU faculty and continued his historical work in

Two Youths Admit Breaking Into Ebenezer Church

Two youths living near Thompsonville, George Allen Isaacs, 17, and Charles Shepherd, 20, have confessed breaking into Ebenezer church near Rileyville and stealing a window fan and an electric sweeper, Sheriff William T. Barrett said today.

The two confessed the burglary yesterday to Barrett at Benton, where they were held. Barrett said that although the two are involved in Franklin and other counties, he would get out a warrant for them here, too.

The pair was arrested in Williamson county Thursday after stealing 12 sacks of wheat. Barrett said, and they were turned over to Franklin county officers, who wanted them in the theft of three sheep and a movie projector.

At Benton they admitted the Saline county theft and thefts in Franklin and Hamilton counties, including some all well drilling bits, which they sold, a wagon, and 12 cases of empty bottles behind a store.

Local Masons Renamed to Grand Lodge Appointments

Harrisburg Masons were renamed to Grand Lodge appointments at the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, A. F. & A. M., at which R. C. Davenport was re-elected Grand secretary.

The meeting was held Friday and Saturday. Paul Spangler was reappointed to the board of Grand examiners; William Biggers, deputy Grand secretary; George Anderson chairman of the Appeals and Grievances committee; E. Bishop Hill to the Credentials committee; and Everett Stricklin was reappointed district deputy Grand master.

Also making the trip to Chicago were Louie Stricklin, master of Harrisburg lodge, and Mrs. Stricklin; Mrs. R. C. Davenport; Mrs. E. Bishop Hill, and Mrs. William Biggers.

the museum until transferring to the SIU Information Service two years ago.

Many other interesting experiences have been sandwiched into his career in education. During World War I he joined the U. S. Marines and spent a year overseas, participating in the Champagne and Meuse-Argonne campaigns; attended the University of London for a semester under assignment from the Marines, rubbed elbows with England's dignitaries, and tramped through much of England and Ireland.

In 1909 he went to California to seek his fortune but didn't see much of a future for himself there after trying a variety of occupations, so returned to southern Illinois school teaching. Mr. and Mrs. Allen have lived in Carbondale since 1937. Mrs. Allen teaches school. They have two children, a son, Robert V., who has been employed in the Library of Congress since taking a Ph. D. in Russian history at Yale; and Mrs. Fred Menteer, Carbondale.

Blaine Boicourt, Former Local Music Teacher, Dies

Word has been received in Harrisburg of the death early Sunday morning of Miss Blaine Boicourt at Normal, Ill. She had entered a hospital last Friday but her death was unexpected.

Miss Boicourt was born in Golconda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boicourt, who died a number of years ago, and was also the sister of the late Chas. S. Boicourt, well-known optometrist of this city.

Miss Blaine, as she was known by her former pupils, was an accomplished musician, well-known in Harrisburg, having taught in the Junior high school for a number of years, and also having visited here on numerous occasions, since going to Normal to become associate professor of music at the Illinois State Normal university in 1925. She retired in 1949 but continued to make her home in Normal.

Miss Boicourt's closest relatives were some nieces and nephews, one of whom was Miss Fan Baker of Golconda, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mildred Boicourt of this city, who, with her son, John, left early Sunday morning for Normal to make arrangements for the funeral.

There will be a short service in Normal at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, after which the body will be brought to the Rottmann funeral home in Golconda for burial, the service being at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

P. N. Hale, 78, of Eldorado, Dies While Visiting in Kentucky

P. N. Hale, 78, 2208 North Main in Eldorado, died yesterday at 6:30 a. m. in Smithland, Ky., where he was visiting his sister, Mrs. Helen Dycus. He was a retired timberman.

He leaves his wife, Lucy Ann Hale, and the following children: Thomas Hale, Mrs. Violet Herrington and Mrs. Maggie Herrington, all of Paducah, Ky.; Willie Hale, Mrs. Lilly Brannon, both of Eldorado, and Mrs. Elsie Styles and Mrs. Nellie Grimes, both of Gary, Ind.; also one sister, Mrs. Helen Dycus, Smithland, Ky., 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the Social Brethren church in Eldorado. Rev. Clark Yost will officiate and burial will be in Maple Lawn cemetery in Paducah, Ky.

The body was taken from the Martin funeral home in Eldorado to the residence to lie in state.

Ex-Nazi Major Says He Burned Hitler's Body

Returns to West Berlin from 10 Years In Soviet Captivity

BERLIN — A Nazi major who served Adolf Hitler as valet said today he himself poured gasoline on the bodies of the self-slain dictator and his mistress and watched their bodies burn.

The day was April 30, 1945. Hitler's $1,000-year Reich was collapsing in ruins between the Allied and Red armies. Berlin was in flames, shattered by Allied planes and Soviet artillery.

The ruined dictator stepped into a bedroom of his underground bunker and sent a bullet crashing into his brain which had conceived the 1,000-year Reich. His mistress, Eva Braun, took poison.

"I can confirm to the whole world that Hitler is dead and that I saw his corpse burned," the Nazi major, valet Hans Linde, said in an interview.

Ten-Years Captivity

Linde returned to West Berlin Saturday from ten years in Soviet captivity with other prisoners freed by the Russians and gave the world the first eye-witness account of those final hours.

He also said he had witnessed the death of the mysterious Martin Bormann, the man chosen by Hitler as his successor. The No. 2 Nazi burned in a tank as he tried to flee the Red armies, Linde said. The main story came from Linde and it began on the evening of the 29th when shells were falling on the bunker and Russian tanks had broken through to Potsdammer Plaza.

All hope was abandoned and Hitler was determined to die. First he married Eva Braun who had long been his secret mistress. Hitler said goodbye to the other bunker occupants and entered his suite with Eva at about 2:30 a. m. Gasoline to burn their bodies already had been ordered.

Waited In Corridor

Linde waited in the corridor outside the suite. He heard a shot and rushed into the suite. Hitler lay dead with Eva Braun alongside him.

"Before he killed himself he charged me with burning his body and that of Eva Braun and I did it," Linde said.

Linde is now 42 years old, a six-foot, tough looking man who appeared to be tired and nervous but in good health.

Linde was captured by the Soviets on May 2 and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment for "helping Hitler to power."

"For three years the Soviets questioned me on Hitler's death," he said. "In 1946 the Russians brought me back to Berlin from Russia to take me through the chancellery and make me point out where this happened and that happened."

$2,600 Turned In To Date in Salvation Army Fund Drive

Saline county's annual Salvation Army fund drive will be completed this week, as all chairmen and workers are striving for the unofficial $5,000 goal.

Up to early this morning a total of $2,600 had been turned in, with several workers yet to report. Carrier Mills all but wound up its campaign Saturday, with a total just short of $300. Eldorado is still working, with a total so far of around $500.

Drive Chairman John W. Biggers commented today that the people of Harrisburg are not realizing the possibility of our losing the Salvation Army post here. "Unless the thermometer on the courthouse square rises another $1,500 or $2,000 this week we can't expect to keep the Army post here," Biggers said.

With the employees' committee starting its concentrated efforts this week, the final results of the campaign will probably not be known before this week end. All workers are asked to turn in their contributions as soon as they can in order that the progress of the drive can be determined.

Diplomats Believe Molotov On Way Out as One of Soviet Big 3

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U. S. diplomats believe Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov may be on the way out as one of the triumvirate that has been regarded as wielding the most power in Russia in recent months.

Diplomatic sources said Sunday that a new struggle for Russia's top leadership may be under way. They interpreted Molotov's dramatic public "apology" as the latest step in a behind-the-scenes battle to succeed the late Josef Stalin as Russia's No. 1 boss.

Molotov's "sin" was to say that Russia has built only "the foundation" of a socialistic system instead of following Communist dogma that this goal already has been achieved. This could be a fatal error in Russia.

This new move could mean that a contest is under way between Communist Party boss Nikita M. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin for the "top dog" role that has remained unfilled since Stalin's death in 1953.

When former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov was demoted last February, Khrushchev appeared to some Western experts to emerge as the top figure.

But when West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer went to Moscow last month, he is known to have gotten the distinct impression that Bulganin was moving ahead.

Molotov's apparent decline was not generally expected to have major effect on the Big Four foreign ministers conference slated to begin Oct. 27 at Geneva, Switzerland.

Carefully Laid Plans Soviet policy at Geneva is expected to follow carefully laid-down lines agreed on in advance. The extent and timing of Molotov's apparent decline are uncertain.

Jailed After Excitement in Local Restaurant

A man who created fear and excitement in a local restaurant Saturday night was behind bars today.

He is James Tidwell, held in the Saline county jail after his arrest by Sheriff William T. Barrett, Deputy James Lyon and City Policeman Pat Atkinson.

The officers were called to the Little Egypt cafe on Poplar street by Mrs. Orlie Tanner, who with Mr. Tanner operates the restaurant.

She said that Tidwell had been in the restaurant, acting wild, and had pulled back his coat to show a revolver in his pocket.

She said she tried to get him to leave but he said the only way he would go out would be "feet first."

However, he departed and Mrs. Tanner called the officers. After looking for him at several places he was spotted in a car on Route 45 in East Harrisburg. The officers stopped him, grabbed hold of the pistol underneath his coat and took him out of the car and then removed the weapon, which was a cap pistol.

Barrett said that the cap pistol looked enough like a real revolver that it could have been mistaken for one easily.

Stolen Auto Is Returned Wrecked

An auto stolen at Eldorado was returned wrecked.

Bob Holman of the Holman Motor Sales reported to Sheriff William T. Barrett today that a car was missing off his used car lot last night.

This morning the auto was back on the lot, damaged in a wreck, he stated.

Tells Legion Nations Must Assure of Cuts

Sec'y Hopes World Is Moving Into Era Of Peaceful Change

MIAMI (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said firmly today the United States will not disarm "unless we can be sure that others are doing the same."

While emphasizing that he hopes the world is moving into an "era of peaceful change," Dulles said that nevertheless the United States does not "intend to be reckless" in respect to disarmament.

He noted that the United States had disarmed after World War I and World War II only to have to rebuild a third time for the Korean War.

"This time we do not propose to disarm ourselves unless we can be sure that others are doing the same," Dulles told the American Legion's 37th annual convention.

Learned the Hard Way

"That is not because the American people have gone militaristic," he added.

"It is because we have learned the hard way. The Soviet Union itself, in Korea, helped to teach us that disarmament, if it may prove to be one-sided, does not produce peace."

Dulles said the United States is eager to cut its military expenses. But he said the nation must remember George Washington's advice in his farewell address that "timely disbursements to prepare for danger, frequently prevent much greater disbursements to repel it."

Dulles said a preponderance of weapons in the hands of persons without moral scruples is dangerous.

"That is why, for our own sake and for the sake of all free men, we must retain the relative power needed to deter aggression," he said.

Dulles also said in his greeting to some 50,000 American Legionnaires that the force of world opinion will compel Russia to relax its grip on East Germany and other satellites.

He said there are skeptics who doubt that such changes could be brought about peacefully but said history does not justify this conclusion. He noted that Austria recently was liberated primarily because of world opinion demanding such a step.

UNESCO Dispute

An internal dispute over the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization probably will not erupt at the Legion convention until later this week.

A possible explosive battle over secession threats of the 40 and 3 was sidetracked for another year by an 11th hour move Sunday night. A six-member committee was named to try to work out the fun-making group's differences with the parent Legion and report to the 1956 convention.

But a powerful group was arming itself to try to torpedo a report of a committee giving UNESCO a clean bill of health.

The special 10-man committee, headed by former National Commander Ray Murphy of New York, declared UNESCO "is not favorable to world government... is not atheistic... is in no sense or no degree Communistic."

Committee members said rejection of the report by the full convention would be a direct slap at the Eisenhower administration, but one Legion group already has labeled the report a "whitewash" and has promised to fight an all-out battle against it on the convention floor.

Refugees are Headache in Arab-Israeli Settlement

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is impossible to put any kind of a rice tag on Secretary of State Dulles' plan to settle the Arab-Israeli war.

In his speech before the Council on Foreign Relations, Dulles was merely outlining American objectives in bringing peace to the Middle East. This would involve resettling the 900,000 Arab refugees in the area, fixing permanent borders between Israel and the Arab states, then, through the United Nations, guaranteeing those borders against aggression by either side.

But Dulles had no detailed plans in his hip pocket on just how these things would be done, or how long it would take to do them.

Aside from the emotional, nationalistic and religious factors involved, the magnitude of the problem can best be gauged by what the United States has already put into this area.

UP TO JULY 1, the total was more than 640 million dollars. Israel has received 338 million dollars.

Aid to the Arab countries has been 278 million dollars.

The resettlement of these Arab refugees is the thorniest problem in establishing a Middle East peace. There are now about 880,000 refugees. But the birth rate in the camps is so high that they are increasing by 25,000 a year.

From 50,000 to 100,000 additional refugees have rehabilitated themselves in Jordan and Lebanon. They were largely the more prosperous Arabs of the old Palestine who got out before the Israeli occupation.

BUT THERE is now no place for the camp refugees to go. The Arab countries simply can't absorb them.

Jordan will give them a nationality status, but Jordan's only resource is the Jordan River and it is not developed to provide jobs.

Syria has given temporary work permits to some 80,000 seasonal workers. But Syria has balked at taking the refugees permanently. The Syrians fear that liquidating the refugee problem will liquidate the problem of Israel and they apparently don't want that on the present basis.

Lebanon, now closely balanced between Christians and Moslems, fears to take in more than the 100,000 refugees they have so far absorbed.

Egypt has cooperated on resettlement in the Sinai area. But Egypt is already overpopulated in the Nile valley so can't take more there.

Iraq took back 5,000 refugees with her army after the Palestine cease-fire. But Iraq already has a couple million of her own people on a low standard of living, and can't take more. Iraq's oil does give her some wealth, however, and her economy is expanding. As new jobs open up, Iraq is taking refugees, currently at the rate of 200 a month.

IN THE FACE of this situation, the only possibility of resettling the refugees is on the desert land where they now squat. The only chance for this is through the Jordan River Development plan which Eric Johnston has been trying to get Israel and the Arab countries to accept.

It would cost an estimated 120 million dollars. It would provide temporary common labor construction jobs for perhaps a hundred thousand workers for the three or four years required to build the dams and irrigation projects. After that, it might provide 300,000 permanent jobs on farms or in new related industries.

But there are strong fears that trying to force a peace settlement now might endanger the Jordan River project. Supporters of this plan think it should be established first as a working reality before trying to tie it in as a condition to a general peace settlement in the Middle East.

Who Rides With Wyatt

XXXVI
The late moon was in its one o'clock cradle over the Whetstones when Lilly heard the quick, familiar sound of his step outside. She listened breathlessly as he led Big Red into the empty lean-to behind the shack, eased its creaking door shut, came sliding along the cabin's east side and around its corner to the swiftly opened door.

Wyatt, oh Wyatt! He held her there in the darkness a long time, neither of them trying to say what didn't need any saying. He kissed her hair, her tear-wet cheek, and, finally, the desperate, clinging softness of her lips.

He stood back then, and Lilly knew as he did what that kiss had meant to him. And what it had meant to her. It was the way his kind said goodbye to hers. Not with cold words or hot promises. But in the only simple, honest way they knew. With a soft, tender kiss, and making all the vows they ever would make, just with the way that kiss was given and with the way it was taken.

"Boy," she whispered huskily, "be good to yourself. It's all I ask. Believe that—for always!" "I'll believe it, Lilly," he said awkwardly. "And I'll believe it for always. Maybe some day, Lilly girl, somehow—some place—I don't know."

"Sure, Wyatt!" she murmured. "Someday, boy. Someday." She broke on it, the quick catch of the sob tearing at his heart. But when she spoke again, her voice was steady, almost calm-like.

"Goodbye, Wyatt." He stepped through the darkness, taking her frail form once more in his great, clumsy arms. The silence again. Long and tense and without words. But this time when he broke away, there was no kiss. No soft goodbye. No tears. The tears came only after the last sound of him and of his sorrel gelding had faded away from the little shack behind the Bird Cage Theater. The hours and the bitterness and the heartbreak of those years were still there when daylight came creeping gray and dirty along the deserted wheel ruts of Toughest Street.

Chamberlain to Guide Prince on Tour of Chicago

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Don E. Chamberlain, Springfield correspondent for a number of Illinois newspapers, has a special assignment from Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Daley summoned the newsman to serve as escort for Prince Albert of Belgium on a tour of Chicago. Chamberlain, a former United Press correspondent, once accompanied the prince's grandfather, the late King Albert of Belgium, on a tour of the United States.

The newsman and his wife, Agnes, will attend a meeting of the City Council Wednesday and then begin the Chicago tour with the prince.

"I only hope the prince is as nice a fellow as his grandfather was," said Chamberlain, dean of the Illinois legislative correspondents.

He met King Albert in Belgium while overseas during World War I as a war correspondent, and following the American tour, he awarded the Order of Leopold. Chamberlain also is a former Springfield bureau manager for United Press.

To Dedicate New Hurricane-Proof Steeple Of Old North Church

BOSTON (AP)—The new hurricane-proof steeple of the Old North Church will be dedicated in a simple religious ceremony Wednesday night.

The Rt. Rev. Norman B. Nash, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, will officiate at the services to commemorate completion of the 50-foot, four-ton spire. The steeple, originally built in 1740, was toppled by a hurricane in 1904, and the new one, completed in August, replaces the one felled by hurricane Carol on Aug. 31 last year.

More than $150,000 was contributed by Americans and foreigners alike to rebuild the historic spire.

Nixon Postpones Trip to Near East

is entitled to an uncomplicated recovery from his heart attack. A carefully studied chart on the President's future was made public Sunday by Dr. Paul Dudley White, the eminent Boston heart specialist, and the staff doctors who have been at the President's bedside for two weeks.

Specialists Outlined Condition

In everyday terms, the Boston specialist, flanked by top heart men of the armed services, said:

1. The President has reacted from his Sept. 24 coronary thrombosis on schedule. Prospects for his future are favorable, but it is incorrect to say that he is out of danger "100 per cent."

2. He must follow a gradual schedule of recovery. His heart may never be as strong as it was before the thrombosis.

3. Medical authority refuses to say whether the President would be physically up to a re-election race next fall.

4. Mr. Eisenhower must remain in Fitzsimons for another four or five weeks.

5. The President can step up his rate of official conferences this week, beginning with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday.

Dr. White expects to return to Denver for another look at the President in two weeks. Conditions warranting, he also plans to return in four weeks.

Preceding White's critique, Vice President Richard M. Nixon had two 15-minute sessions with the President Saturday afternoon and again Sunday morning.

Unemployment Shows Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of unemployed declined last month to the lowest level in almost two years.

There were 2,149,000 unemployed, the government reported today. The number of employed persons also declined seasonally to 64,733,000—that's because of persons going back to school and other reasons. But both total employment and non-farm employment were at record high levels for the month of September.

Mrs. Raymond Barr Inducted as Worthy Grand Matron OES

Mrs. Raymond (Elfreda) Barr of Granite City was inducted as Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star, Illinois Grand Chapter, at the annual meeting in Medinah temple in Chicago last week.

Mrs. Barr was installed in place of the late Mrs. Beatrice Langguth of Maywood, who died in August while filling the second ranking office in the state organization.

Coincidental with Mrs. Barr's induction into the office, her daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Rae Rapp, is the new worthy matron of the Belleville chapter, and to make the circle complete, Mr. Barr will be his daughter's companion as worthy patron of the Belleville chapter.

Mrs. Barr has announced she will not let the motto chosen for Mrs. Langguth's administration die, but will incorporate it—based on Mrs. Langguth's initials, as is the custom—with her own.

Thus the state's 165,000 Eastern Star members will be called upon in the year ahead to "Be Loyal—And Enjoy Faith's Blessings."

Other officers elected were Elsie Bruhn, Chicago, associate Grand matron, Pearl Fairchild, Freeport, associate Grand conductress, and Betty Clark, also of Chicago, who was installed as Grand conductress.

Attending from the Harrisburg chapter of the Order of Eastern Star were Mrs. W. W. Damron, worthy matron, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Douglas, associate patron and associate matron, Mrs. R. C. Davern, past Grand matron of Illinois, E. Bishop Hill, worthy patron, and Mrs. Hill, past matron.

Harriman and Stassen Bid for '56 Nominations

WASHINGTON 10—Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Republican former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota each moved closer today to becoming open candidates for their parties' presidential nominations in 1956.

Harriman said Sunday he is not committed to support Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic nomination next year—a statement some political observers interpreted as meaning that Harriman himself is in the race.

Stassen, now President Eisenhower's special adviser on disarmament, all but said he would accept the 1956 GOP nomination if Mr. Eisenhower picked him for the assignment. He prefaced this, however, by expressing hope Mr. Eisenhower will seek reelection.

Harriman said his past statements that he is "for" Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic candidate, did not mean he is bound to support Stevenson in 1956.

Both Parties See Victory Reminded that his age has been raised as a possible deterrent to his candidacy, Harriman said 64 "is not too old . . . to do almost anything."

Stassen, who has three times sought the presidential nomination, said that if Mr. Eisenhower declines to run next year, he can pick his successor on the Republican ticket. He was interviewed on a television program.

Both Republican and Democratic officials predicted their party would win control of the House in next year's election.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa.), chairman of the House Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, said President Eisenhower's illness has not caused GOP leaders to lower their goal of capturing at least 233 House seats in 1956. This would give the Republicans a 31-vote margin over the Democrats.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler predicted the Democrats would greatly increase their control of the House above their present strength of 231 seats. Republicans now hold 203 seats.

Stratton Names Safe Driving Day Director

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Thursday, Dec. 1, proclaimed by President Eisenhower as Safe Driving Day, 1955, is "an open invitation to every Illinois motorist to accept personal responsibility to reduce traffic accidents," Governor William G. Stratton said today following the appointment of Carl Miller, Greenville, as Illinois S-D Day director.

The objective of S-D Day, which includes an intensive 10-day lead-up and 10-day follow-up campaign, is to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially when all drivers and pedestrians fulfill their moral and civic responsibilities for safety.

Governor Stratton said S-D Day can be a significant contribution to traffic accident prevention since it can prove to each individual that he, personally, can help save lives.

President Eisenhower has pledged his leadership for Safe Driving Day, 1955. A recent statement prior to the President's current illness said, in part: "In the hope that we shall be able to insure the safety of our families and fellow citizens, I shall be happy to participate in a safety campaign beginning on November 20, 1955, and culminating in S-D Day on December 1."

Plans for the success of S-D Day are being prepared by the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety in cooperation with the other state agencies. The help of business, industry, civic and service groups in all of the communities of Illinois will be sought for effective local S-D Day campaigns. Each county and city will be asked to appoint S-D Day directors and S-D Day committees through which services and materials will be made available to the local safety effort.

Charge Listing Of Contracts by Gov't Misleading

WASHINGTON 10—A Senate subcommittee has accused the Defense Department of supplying "misleading information" to Congress concerning defense contractors.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee reported to the Senate Armed Services committee Sunday that a Defense Department summary supplied Congress in May makes it impossible to determine who the largest defense contractors are.

The subcommittee complained that the summary indicated that 45 big companies, including the giant General Motors Corp., were no longer among the 100 biggest defense suppliers.

But the subcommittee supplied its own summary showing that all 45 were in the top 100 with General Motors at the head of the list.

The report criticized the department for cancelling its semi-annual summary of top defense contractors for economy reasons in January of 1954 and for reestablishing it on a different statistical basis when two congressional committees requested the data last spring.

The subcommittee recommended that the department resume its old reports on the net volume of contracts awarded since July, 1950. It also suggested that the department review its reports and procedures to eliminate errors and insure "that published reports will be accurate."

The subcommittee's own listing of the companies that received the largest total of defense contracts (less cancellations and terminations) between July, 1950 and December, 1954, showed:

1. General Motors Corp. net contract value $6,398,900,000; 2. Boeing Aircraft Co. $5,167,800,000; 3. Douglas Aircraft Co. Inc. $3,909,600,000; 4. United Aircraft Corp. $3,877,500,000; 5. General Electric Co. $3,672,500,000; 6. Lockheed Aircraft Corp. $2,892,900,000; 7. North American Aviation Inc. $2,841,800,000; 8. General Dynamics Corp. (Consolidated Vultee) $2,670,000,000; 9. Republic Aviation Corp. $2,207,200,000; 10. Chrysler Corp., $2,088,900,000.

Rules for Fire Prevention Week Essay Contest

Rules for the National Fire Prevention Week Essay contest sponsored annually by Robertson-Ghent, local insurance and bond brokers, were announced today for the English department of the Harrisburg Township high school by Mrs. Dolores Lienesch.

The English department in charge of the contest has established rules for the contest and will select the best twenty essays. Judges for selecting the winner from these twenty will be announced later by the sponsor.

This contest has a dual purpose. It gives a local student an opportunity to earn a prize and helps to make the student body and the entire community fire prevention conscious.

The winner will have an option of accepting a nine month scholarship to Southern Illinois university or in lieu thereof $39.00 Series E United States Savings bond.

The contest is open to all students of the Harrisburg Township high school, and it would be possible for a student to win the contest four consecutive years, thereby providing a complete college scholarship.

Rules of the contest:

1. Any H. T. H. S. student may participate.
2. Essays to be between 500-750 words.
3. Subject, any phase of fire prevention.
4. Reference material from any source may be used.
5. Essay to be submitted by letter to sponsor on or before November 14, 1955.
6. To enter, secure entry number from Mrs. Dolores Lienesch at the Harrisburg Township high school.

Indicate Modest Recovery for Illinois Mines with Production Up

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—With winter and the big production months coming up, Illinois' long-ailing coal industry appeared headed today for at least a modest recovery.

Production for the first eight months of 1955 was up about 14 per cent over last year. The average number of mines being worked also showed an increase over 1954.

But increasing mechanization in the mines was reflected in a decline in the number of men working in the mines.

Production through August this year totaled 28,504,336 tons, based on reports filed with the Illinois Mines and Minerals Department. And not all mines filed reports.

4,000,000 Tons a Month
Joseph C. Tabor, chief clerk in the department, said output thru the four remaining months of the year could be expected to come close to four million tons a month.

This would put total 1955 production at near 45 million tons, about even with 1952 and 1953, but considerably ahead of last year when about 40 million tons were mined.

Production for the first eight months of 1954 was 24,890,262 tons, about 14.5 per cent below the figure for the same 1955 period.

Increased output this year over 1954 started in January and continued each month. February with 4,443,691 tons was the peak month this year, July the lowest at 2,862,591 tons.

The monthly average number of mines being worked this year hit a peak of 127 in March and a low of 78 in June. The eight-month average was 103, compared with 97 in 1954, when a high of 120 mines were working in February.

An average monthly decline of 2,000 men working has accompanied the increased production.

The eight-month average for 1955, with a peak of 13,030 in February, was 11,766. The 1954 average, with a top of 15,814 in January and no month under 12,000, was 13,641.

Williamson, Christian and Fulton counties led the way in increasing coal production in the first eight months this year. Williamson county mines produced 4,284,815 tons, Christian county 3,977,790, and Fulton county 3,342,927.

On arrival at the military air terminal, Nixon said he was "tremendously impressed" by the competence of the medical personnel attending the President.

"May I add my 'Amen' to that," said Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist who flew to Denver and back with Nixon.

Nixon spent 15 minutes with Mr. Eisenhower Sunday. He said the President "named several subjects he would like to discuss and several members of the cabinet he would like to see" during the next few weeks.

Mr. Eisenhower "showed a vital interest in various problems, national and international," Nixon said.

He also had praise for Mrs. Eisenhower. She deserves a vote of "gratitude and appreciation" for the way she has carried on during the President's illness, Nixon said.

He said Mrs. Eisenhower has personally answered more than 8,000 letters received from well wishers since the President became ill.

John Eisenhower, the President's son, and Rep. E. Keith Thomson (R-Wyo.), also returned aboard the plane with Nixon and Dr. White.

Maj. Eisenhower, who is stationed at nearby Fort Belvoir, was met at the plane by his wife, Barbara.

About Town And Country

he said, adding "I only saw one lady wearing slacks and that was in Athens."

JOHN RODE six miles on horseback before he could get to the town where he was born. Regarding his relatives, he said they try to eke out a living on small farms and have a hard time doing so.

After going to church with some of them one Sunday, he said, (the only religion is the Greek Orthodox) he invited the group to eat dinner at a restaurant with him.

And they refused, he said, declaring they were ashamed to eat out because people would think they were lazy and no good.

He dwelt at length on the clothing problem in Greece, saying that he had seen so many patches on pants that you couldn't see the pants. He said that he is going to spend time and money here getting things to send back to his people.

In the home town of Nick Poulos, local restaurant man from Greece, John said that people everywhere were wearing Nick's clothing. "They think he is the King Bee over there," he told me. While there John attended the wedding of a niece of Nick's.

THE CLIMATE of Greece is good, and the water is good, he said, telling of the better things about the country. And the American gets his way because he is regarded as very rich.

Most beautiful thing he said he saw was the No. 1 cemetery at Athens. The rich are buried in the No. 1, the middle class in the No. 2 and the poor in the No. 3.

The ship he was on was a Greek liner that went all the way from New York to Greece, going past the Rock of Gibraltar at the Atlantic into the Mediterranean.

Stops were made at Naples, Italy, Messina, Sicily, Lisbon, Portugal and Halifax, Nova Scotia. On the return trip, he said, there were Greek services with prayers for the recovery of President Eisenhower.

Sole Selectee
Richard M. Johnson of Kentucky was the only vice president of the United States ever elected by the Senate. Martin Van Buren easily was elected president, but no one candidate received a majority for vice president, so Johnson was chosen by the Senate in accordance with Constitutional provision.

Michigan, Oklahoma and Notre Dame Challenge Maryland's Top Rating

By United Press
Michigan's ball-hawking Wolverines, Oklahoma's streaking Sooners, and Notre Dame's unscathed Irish submitted strong bids to day to unseat Maryland as the nation's leading college football team.

All three powerhouse teams impressed this weekend with victories over tough teams—Michigan crushing highly-rated Army, 26-2; Oklahoma running its best-in-the-nation winning streak to 22 games by drubbing Texas, 20-0; and Notre Dame whitewashing Miami of Florida, 14-0.

Maryland, rated the nation's top team since the start of the season, had little chance to impress in a 28-7 win over Wake Forest.

Michigan's first triumph in history over Army created the biggest stir for the classy Cadets simply never were in the game against the Wolverines. Although Army, the nation's No. 6 team, outgained and out-first-downed Michigan, the Cadets' own fumbling—caused by hard Michigan tackling — kept Army in its own territory until the fourth period.

Fumbled Nine Times
Nine times the ball was jarred out of the hands of Army ball-toters; eight times Michigan recovered.

That did it. That and a Michigan attack sparked by a surprise package halfback named Terry Barr, who plunged one foot for the Wolverines' first touchdown in the first period and rambled 82 yards with a punt return for another.

Texas was tabbed by many as Oklahoma's last major test in the way of an unbeaten season, but the Sooners passed this test comfortably.

Notre Dame invaded Miami's Orange Bowl on Friday night and conquered on two scoring passes by quarterback Paul Hornung, who wasn't supposed to be much of a passer. Miami actually crossed the unsullied Irish goal line, but had the TD nullified by a penalty.

Maryland could have won by a much more lopsided score that would have been more impressive for the Terrapin first-stringers scored touchdowns four of the seven times they had the ball. But Coach Jim Tatum let subs play all the rest of the time.

Georgia Tech Victorious
Georgia Tech, the nation's fourth-ranked team, settled for a 7-0 victory over Louisiana State, getting the game's only touchdown on a 46-yard pass play from Toppo Vann to George Volkert.

Four of the nation's "Big Five" will be heavy favorites this week—Maryland over North Carolina, Michigan over Northwestern as it opens its Big Ten campaign, Oklahoma over Kansas, and Georgia Tech over Auburn.

But Notre Dame collides with Michigan State, the nation's 14th-ranked team, that ripped Stanford Saturday, 38-14, even though penalized 120 yards. The Irish-Spartan clash at East Lansing, Mich., will be the nationally televised "game of the week."

The chief upset victims of the weekend were: Southern California, the nation's No. 10 team, Beaten by Washington, 7-0 on an 89-yard scoring play involving a pass, a lateral, and a 50-yard run by end Corky Lewis; Harvard, beaten 20-7 by Cornell; and De Graaf scored three touchdowns, and Marquette, a seven-point favorite that was buried by Kansas State, 42-0.

Stars of the Week
Among the other individual stars of the weekend were: Jimmy Swink, who scored all three touchdowns, one on a 65-yard run, as seventh-ranked Texas Christian downed Alabama, 21-0; Larry Zaleski, who set up both touchdowns with long runs and blocked the extra point that meant the difference in Colorado A&M's 14-13 win over Wyoming to take over the Skyline conference lead; Dennis (The Menace) McGill, who scored four touchdowns for Yale in a 46-14 rout of Columbia; Vic (Jack) Rabbits of West Virginia, who scored two touchdowns — one on a 99-yard punt return that started the day's scoring, to lead a 47-12 rout of VMI; Dick Young-to-Jimmy Orr, Georgia's nation-leading pass combination which clicked for two touchdowns in 28-7 win over North Carolina; Jimmy Haluska of Wisconsin, who completed 14 of 18 passes in a 20-0 win over Purdue; Don Dobrino of Iowa, who scored two touchdowns in 20-6 victory over Indiana; Howard (Hopalong) Cassady of Ohio State, who scored two TD's in 27-12 victory over Illinois.

Legion Wins City Series

Defeat Stars, 9-7, for Second City Victory

The Harrisburg Legion won out over the Harrisburg Stars Sunday afternoon by a 9 to 7 score to take city championship honors. The Legion won the first game of the series last Sunday when it edged the Stars 7 to 6. The game yesterday was played on the new field near the fairgrounds and quite a nice crowd was on hand to witness the first game to be played there.

Don Stout and Bill McNew were the starting opponents on the hill in yesterday's game and Stout received the win although he left the mound in the sixth when he developed a blister on his pitching hand. Don Wallace finished up for the Legion.

The Legion started the scoring in the second inning as Dailey walked, advanced a base on Hay's sacrifice and rode home via Aggie Miller's single. Three more Legion runs scored in the third inning when Williams led off with a sharp single to left, Logsdon walked and both runners advanced a base on a wild pitch from where they scored as Guley drove a single to center. Guley swiped second base, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Dailey's sacrifice fly to center.

The Stars broke the scoring ice in the fourth themselves as they netted two runs on walks to Karnes, Shewmake, Harrison and McNew's two base hit. Singles by Nolen and Price and a couple of miscues by the Legion gave the Stars another marker in the fifth, a hit batsman (Guley) and singles by Dallas and Hay and an error let the Legion in with three markers. They added their final two runs in the sixth on hits by Guley and Dallas and a fielding lapse on the part of the Stars' defense.

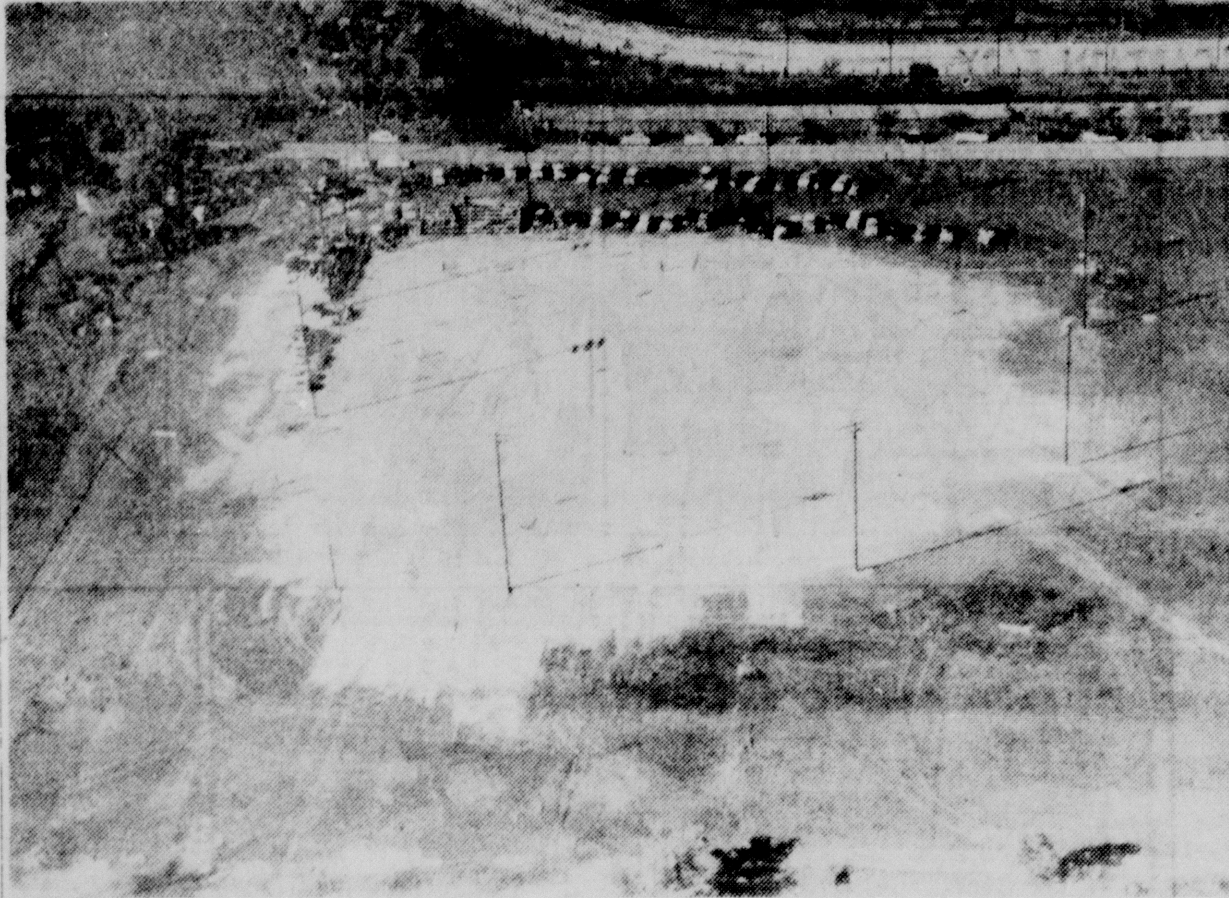

The losers added four runs in the ninth in a desperate bid to tie or win as they scored four times. Ziegler led off the inning with a triple and scored on Karnes' single. Shewmake was safe on an error and scored as Red Smith doubled. A bad stop of an out-field throw at third base allowed Smith to advance to that base from where he scored the final tally when Logsdon made a nice running catch of Harrison's long fly down the right field line.

Harold Guley and Bob Dallas, with a pair of safeties each, led the Legion's eight-hit attack. Rod Smith connected for two hits to pace the losers' eighth-inning total.

Dick Romonosky caught all the way for the winning team and Floyd Shewmake and Bubba Hughes did the catching for the Stars.

Eight Lettermen Included Among 32 Cage Candidates at Shawneetown

Included among the thirty candidates for the Shawneetown high school basketball squad are eight lettermen, Coach Darwin Valter revealed today.

Even with so many experienced players back from last year's winning team—Shawneetown won 32 before dropping a quarter-final game in the state tournament—Coach Valter is looking over every prospect and each player will be given a chance to make the squad.

"All I know about the players is what I've heard. I haven't seen a Shawneetown game in about five years. Every candidate will be given full opportunity to make the team," Valter declared.

The returning letter winners are Jack Nolen, 6-4 senior, Jack Drake, Hobart Ellis, Alfred Gungel, Mitch Thraikill, Ted Coleman, all seniors standing 6 feet or more, and Carroll Crayne, 5-11 senior who will be eligible only for the first semester, and Bob Stewart, 5-9 junior.

Gym a Busy Place
A couple of other seniors who have played little or no varsity ball, but show lots of promise are Larry Underwood and John Fred Logsdon. Both stand about 2 inches over the six foot mark.

A freshman that has been especially impressive is Chas. Maynard. "If he continues to improve he could be playing varsity ball before the end of the season," Valter stated.

The squad is divided into two groups, with the juniors and seniors working out together and the freshmen and sophomores are in a group.

The Shawneetown gymnasium is a busy place these days. The high school players practice until 6 p. m., then grade school boys take over. Old Shawneetown, New Shawneetown and Junction alternate nights, keeping the gym in use practically every evening.

"Indian Chief" To Aid Cheer Leaders;
Girls Have New Outfits
The Shawneetown high school has added something new to its cheer leading section for the 1955-56 basketball season. It was announced today by Coach Darwin Valter.

For the Indians' opening game, and maybe for all games, an "Indian Chief" will work with the six-girl cheering squad.

Gary Harlow has been selected as Chief Shawnee and will perform in Indian regalia, complete with paint and feathers.

Cheer leaders are Diane Winterberger, Nina Pierson, Christine Cleveland, Delores Smith, Virginia Stewart and Peggy Sheets, squad captain.

The girls are getting new outfits of black gabardine skirts with orange pleats, white "V" neck sweaters with black and orange S in the front, black neck scarves, black oxford and white socks.

Miss Ellen Dallas, vocal music instructor, and Coach Valter are sponsors of the cheering squad and pep club.

Illinois End, Guard Sidelined With Injuries

CHAMPAIGN — Illinois end Bob Wiman and guard Pete Fiorito have been sidelined indefinitely with knee injuries received in Saturday's Illinois - Ohio State game, it was announced today.

Wiman, a senior from Robinson, Ill., who was the Illinois regular fullback last fall, will be out for the rest of the season, it was announced. Fiorito, a 220-pound sophomore from Proviso, Ill., who got into his first collegiate game against the Buckeyes, may be able to see service again this season.

Illini Coach Ray Eliot said the team's 27-12 loss to Ohio State gives him a good indication of his team's strength this season.

"We're not discouraged," he said. "Naturally, we're disappointed. We like to win them all. But there are still six games left on the schedule."

"This is a green team," Eliot continued. "The boys are inexperienced. They're going to get better as the season goes on because they won't be making the mistakes they made against Ohio State."

The Ohio State game marked Illinois' first loss in three starts this season.

Martial Law in Indiana Area

INDIANAPOLIS — Martial law was imposed today in an eastern Indiana area where striking CIO United Auto Workers and non-striking employees of the Perfect Circle Corp. waged a gun battle last week.

Gov. George N. Craig, who interrupted a vacation to seek a settlement of the violent labor dispute, took the action immediately after a 30-minute conference with leaders in the two factions failed to reach a basis for resumption of negotiations and restoration of peace.

Full martial law replaces a limited martial law in effect since last Wednesday night, a few hours after nine persons were wounded and injured in a riot at the gates of the firm's New Castle, Ind., foundry.

It was learned that Mrs. Bozworth and child were en route to St. Louis. Mrs. Huland was treated for cuts on the forehead and throat and was released. Later, it was learned, the daughter was put to bed at the Pearce hospital in Eldorado suffering from shock.

No Question Of Retiring, Molotov Says

MOSCOW — Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov said today "I shall go to America at the first opportunity."

He made his statement shortly after Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said "there is no question of my retirement."

Molotov told newsmen at a reception for Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson that "of course, I will go to Geneva."

The newsmen wanted to know if his recent public apology for a "theoretical mistake" in Communist doctrine meant he is about to retire. The apology was contained in a letter to the magazine Kommunist.

"There is no question of my retirement in the letter," he said, and his whole attitude seemed to bear it out.
